I do not understand the practice at all. At times drafts of interim letters are put up for approval & not at others. It seems to me that unless the matter is one of doubt, delicacy or difficulty, there is no need to put up interim drafts for approval. The present is an instance when it need not have been, in my opinion

Estimate for the Car of the Tree Rama Lingeswara swamy temple at Alamu Kolar

G.R.S. III–3]

ROUTINE NOTES.

[To be used only for notes, requisitions, etc, not intended for permanent record.]

This estimate proposes to construct a new Car of the 3rd type with wheels of 7 ft diameter total height from ground to top being 35 ft.

The area of the first platform over which the deity will be seated is made to be as big as 18 ft x 18 ft

Distance between the wheels is 12 ½ ft.

In my opinion a car of this size will be very heavy and will require the help of nearly 200 people for moving it.

Further the estimate

N.B.—Should routine notes be written on small slips, the notes must be copied, or slips pasted on this form.

C.R.S III–3]

ROUTINE NOTES.

[To be used only for notes, requisitions, etc., not intended for permanent record.]

This is not complete, and the rates to are now. Though the estimate as submitted by the Dy Comr is for an amount of ₹1768/ still after properly revising it the might well up to ₹4

Do a can of this sort necessary ~~or~~ and will not a smaller rotheram at a Lump sum cost ~~of~~ be enough?

If the above point is settled further action may be taken.
